What is AIConf?

AIConf. is a unique event, centred around the impact of Artificial Intelligence and Machine Learning on the future of education. Over the course of two days, a mix of keynote speakers, workshops and discussions will educate and inspire our delegates.

Taking place in the stunningly beautiful settings of Wells Cathedral School's RIBA-Award winning Cedars Hall and the gothic masterpiece of Wells Cathedral, AIConf. provides the perfect environment for an immersive and thought-provoking experience.

In addition to delegates coming for the full two days, we offer single-day passes, increasing the opportunities for you to engage with people driving the future of education.

Coming to AIConf. will give our delegates a unique insight into the future of both education and society as a whole. It is the first conference of its kind in the UK, aimed at school leaders, governors, teachers, consultants, parents and others.
